Conference attendees will study the lives and works of Sándor Ferenczi and Georg Groddeck as well as the importance of their relationship. They will explore the current discourse on body and mind - and the area between the two.

In addition to more than 50 paper and panel presentations, the Conference will include an opening evening gathering, a gala banquet on Saturday evening and an optional bus tour of Baden-Baden. The mayor of Baden-Baden will welcome us; André Haynal will then speak on

The History of the Body in Psychoanalysis: Freud, Ferenczi and Groddeck.

Attendance will be capped at 450 people and registration is first-come, first-served so register today via the attached form or via our website at <http://www.ClinicalFerenczi.info> to ensure your participation in this exciting event.

Clinical Sándor Ferenczi Conference August 2-6, 2006 Baden-Baden, Germany psychoanalysis and Psychosomatics: Mind, Body and the Bridge Between

Study the lives and works of Sándor Ferenczi and Georg Groddeck, the importance of their relationship, and current applications.

Why Baden-Baden

Georg Groddeck's sanatorium Villa Marienhöhe at Werderstraße 14 in Baden-Baden, Germany was a meeting place for many of the pioneers of psychoanalysis, who gathered, usually in the summer, for symposia and smaller meetings, Sándor Ferenczi among them.

With the onset of World War II, they scattered to diverse global institutions. Outgrowths include interpersonal and relational psychoanalytic therapy and psychoanalysis. These followers contributed ideas regarding the application of psychoanalytic perspectives to physical as well as mental illnesses, and thus the field of psychosomatics was born.

Their intellectual progeny can now return to Baden-Baden, a magnificent spa city that does promise many rose gardens at this summertime conference devoted to the relationship of Ferenczi and Groddeck.
